Thousand Tons for the Harriman System Aid the Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The extreme rise of today's stock market is evidently due to the closing of the London stock market, and was a testimony to the importance attached to that market as an index of international political conditions. Hesitation and despatching to enter into new commitments here, with the London market suspended, were the dominant features of the local market; but it was no evidence that there was wanting a measure of liquidation on account of the conditions or an amount of weak speculative holdings of stocks such as would have reacted on last week. With money practically unobtainable on loan, except at 1 per cent or below, there was no reason why speculative holders should be forced to liquidate, and the market resumed today about the maintenance of the market value of the holdings. Slight pressure to realize after the opening was absorbed without difficulty and left the way open for the creeping upward movement of the market followed. In this the bankers and capitalists were the leaders. This was in consequence with the weekly advice on the conditions of the railroad traffic which officials are in the habit of stating in interviews for publication. There were quite uniform encouraging as to increasing traffic and hopes and even confidence as to the improvement in business sentiment and prospects for fall business.

The substantial increase in net earnings for June over last year reported by the Atchafalaya was helpful to the movement. The speculative mind did not seem to be intimidated by the prospect of loss of trans-Pacific traffic owing to the announced refusal of steamship companies to accept shipments for Japan, and the strength of these stocks and of United States Steel preferred.

The strength in the wheat market was somewhat variously interpreted. In the London Times' report of general damage to European crops was a factor and appealed more to stock market sentiment than did the reports of damage to spring wheat from too much moisture. Only a few of the prominent stocks rose as much as a point. Bonds were dull and steady. Total sales, par value, $940,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

EGGS ARE SCARCE IN SALT LAKE

Fruit and Vegetables Are Still Falling in Price—Poultry Is Also Scarce.

The scarcity of eggs is a topic that is being much discussed among produce merchants at present. The wholesale price for each case is $2.50, but the firm said yesterday that if it could only get the eggs it could just as easily get a case for them, but there are hardly any to be obtained. The chief reason for this is that harvesting is in full swing all over the country and poultry farming is being slightly neglected. Utah eggs are not plentiful this year anyway.

At the opening an easier feeling was manifested in the wheat pit as a result of favorable weather and increased receipts, there being considerable selling by rail traders. The market was unchanged. At the opening an easier feeling was manifested in the wheat pit as a result of favorable weather and increased receipts, there being considerable selling by rail traders. The market was unchanged.

The principal influence affecting the corn market was a report that the Roumanian crop had been destroyed by drought and that the Government had prohibited exportation of the grain. This report caused a slight rise in the price of corn, which was advanced to 15 1/2 cents. Local receipts were 201 cars, with 17 of contract grade.

Influenced by the strength of wheat and corn, the oats market was more active. The price of oats was advanced to 12 1/2 cents. Local receipts were 129 cars.

Receipts of wheat and flour were equal to 44,200 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,291 bushels, compared with 1,291 bushels a year ago. The visible supply showed an increase of 318,000 bushels, while the amount on passage decreased 1,151,000 bushels. Minneapolis and Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 420 cars, 322 cars and 420 cars, respectively.

YOUR HEART

May Be Weak. One Person in Four Has a Weak Heart.

One of the surest signs of a weak heart is shortness of breath after exercise. Your heart is not able to pump the blood fast enough to your lungs. Some of the other symptoms of Heart Trouble are: Pains in the Side, Back and Shoulder; Fainting or Weak Spells; Dry Cough; Swelling of Feet and Ankles; Cold Feet or Hands.

No one can afford to allow a weak heart to go without medicine, because weak heart means poor circulation, and poor circulation means weak lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, etc. If, therefore, you suspect heart trouble, begin taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. The Heart Cure will do you good, as it is a splendid tonic for the blood and nerves, and will revitalize your entire system.

Finally, remember, Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold under a guarantee that the first bottle will do you good. If it doesn't—your money back.

It was afflicted with heart trouble for three years. I would be apparently all right, but I would feel a warning that I was in danger. I would feel a warning that I was in danger. I would feel a warning that I was in danger.
